

A House For God's Name (revised)

John Valade (July 2 2010)

Voice

When God had gran - ted Da - id rest from all his e - ne - mies, "When you lie down in dust of earth I'll make your seed a - rise.
 The stone the build - ers had re - fused became the crown - ing stone.

The king desired to build God's house for all the world to see! A house He'll build a house for My great Name So your fame ne - ver dies. This Tem - As Tem - ple He will build His Church; His blood their sin a - tone. A build - to hon - or God Most High, to praise and glor - i - fy, The great - est Name ple will abound with praise! Its ver - y stones cry out! The na - tions will ing that is fit - ly framed to right - ly praise the Lord; Whose Head is our in all the earth, the seas or in the sky. It pleased God that he wished all be amazed. "How won - drous in our sight! The First and Se - cond Tem - Lord Je - sus Christ, and we His li - ving stones. So let us all go out it so, but he was not the man. "There is too much blood on your hands, ple's tale is most - ly one of woe: They left the glo - rious Most High God as one in praise of our Lord God. By lov - ing one an - oth - er we I'll raise a man who can. I'll build for you a house instead, of your for "gods" of wood and stone. Yet in the midst of their sore trials God sent proclaim that He's our God. His Spi - rit builds us up in Him as though own flesh and blood. Your King - dom will outlast mere flesh, its wars and fire His on - ly Son; The Li - on of King Da - vid's line would fin' - ly be one fa - mi - ly. King Je - sus is the one who does build peace e - ter - and the flood. One.

 nal - ly.